Informational event for software developers regarding the new message descriptions of customs declarations for import

11.12.2019 UCC UTU customer project

Timetable target for the implementation of new national declarations

Changes to import declarations

- The import declarations are submitted to the new customs declaration system (UTU)
 - The structure of the import declarations changes
 - The declarations are submitted with data content in accordance with the Union Customs Code.
 - Direct message exchange is the only service channel for message exchange
- The way the companies submit their import declarations will change in stages
 - In 2021, the companies submit certain declarations to the UTU system and some declarations are still submitted to the ITU system

Phases according to procedures

- End of 2020: Release for free circulation
 - Customs procedure codes 07, 40, 42, 45, 61, 63
 - Further; 01, 68, 95 and 96
 - Electronic amendment and invalidation
 - Simplified and supplementary declarations (also periodic clearances, EIDR, i.e. formerly local clearance)
 - Storage release notification for temporary storage facility
- End of 2021: Special procedures
 - End-use 44, goods import for outward processing (46, 48) inward processing 51 and temporary admission 53

Standard customs declaration (FI415A)

- The customer sends it to Customs in order to place goods under the import procedure
- Also works as a:
 - Simplified declaration with reduced data content, formerly incomplete declaration as well as a supplementary declaration with complete data content
 - Tax border declaration for Åland; for example, goods brought from Sweden to Åland
 - National tax border declaration

Other declarations when placing goods under the procedure

- Presentation notification (FI475A)
 - Only used if the goods are placed under the import procedure through an entry in the declarant's records (EIR authorisation)
 - Limited data content
 - Additionally, a supplementary declaration is submitted
- Low value consignment declaration (FI485A)
 - The customer sends it to Customs in order to place goods worth less than €150 under the import procedure
 - Limited data content

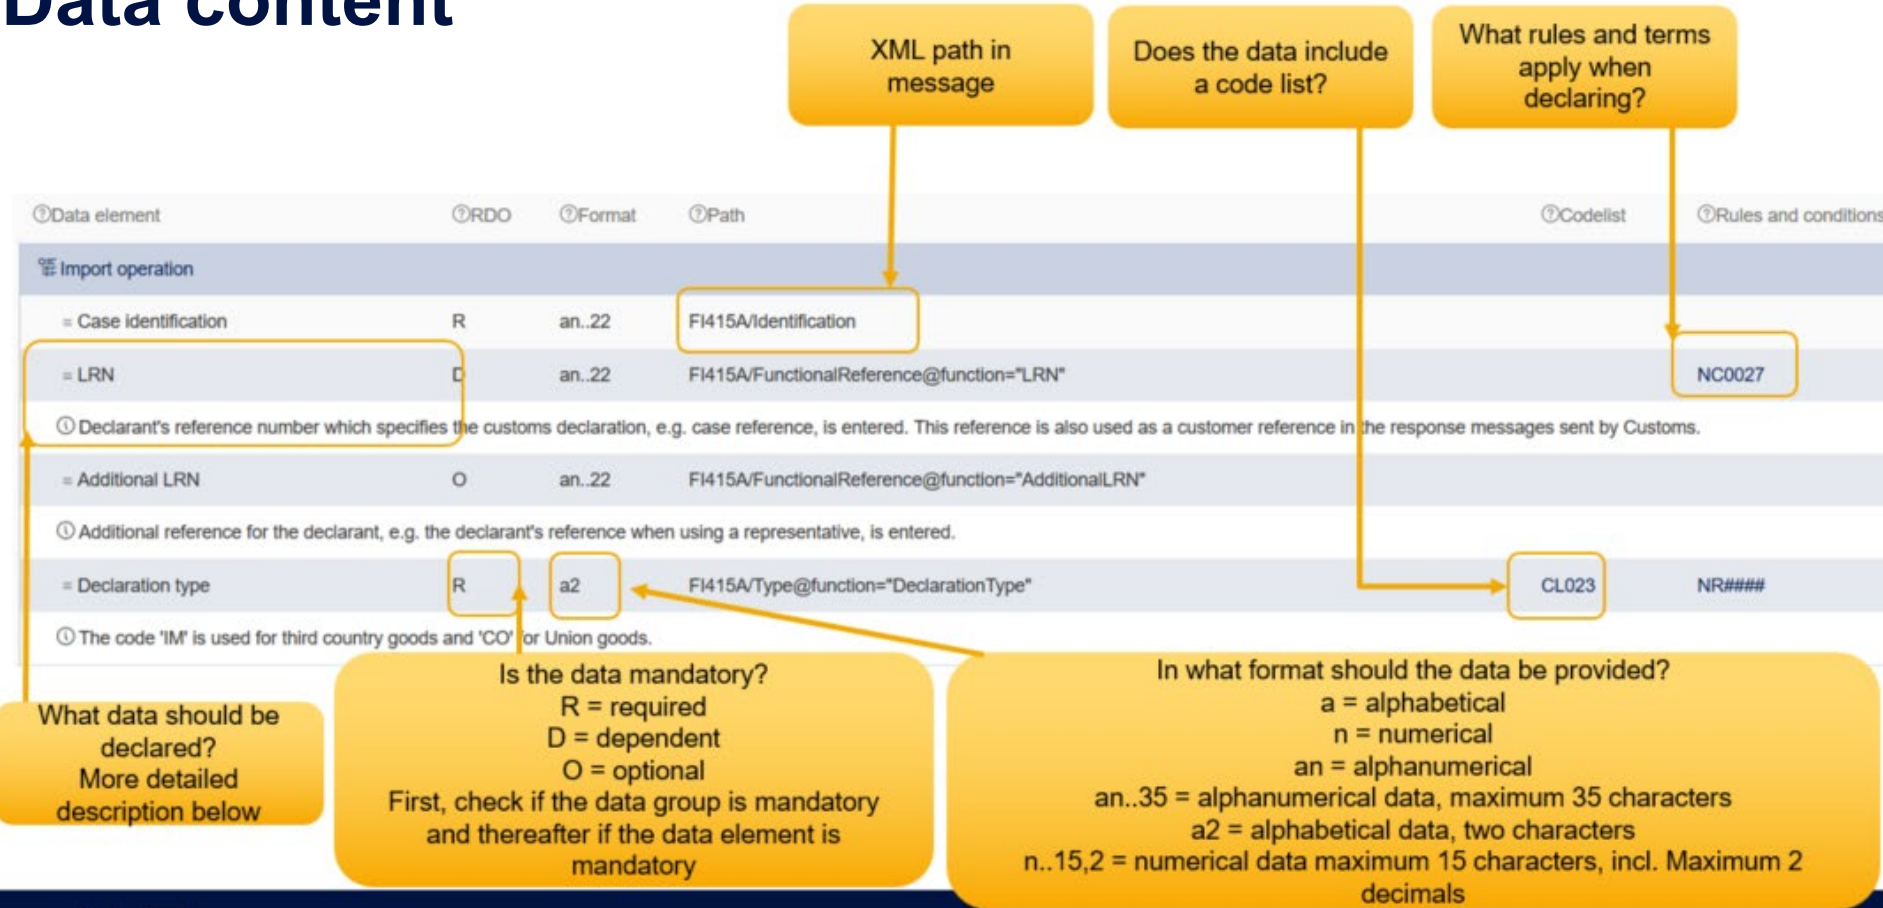

Message descriptions

- Import message descriptions, i.e. Customs' specifications for import declarations in message format were published in November 2019 and are still supplemented
